Luxury at its finest in the Blue Mountains

Mountain Whispers Luxury Accommodation located in the picturesque Blue Mountains villages of Leura and Katoomba offers everything one could possibly need for the perfect getaway.

Made up of four award winning boutique luxury escapes, the Mountain Whispers collection are longstanding historical properties that have been restored to reflect the grandeur of their time.

Strawberry Patch, Leura Rose and Varena are each based in the heart of Leura, minutes from the charming village and impressive restaurants.

Each of the properties boast antique period furnishings with romantic bedrooms, luxury bathrooms with double spa baths and floor heating and an added touch of wow - a mahogany log fire place in the bathroom at Leura Rose.

Each property also has its own unique story to tell, like Varena, which was built in 1906 and owned by Matilda Cowper, granddaughter of the Arch Deacon William Cowper.

The Gatsby, which is located in Katoomba, is a stand out property with its art deco feel and is perfectly located in close proximity to many of the must see tourist attractions in the mountains like the Three Sisters and Scenic World.

One of the best parts about each of the Mountain Whispers properties, perhaps, is the fact that guests have sole and exclusive use of the entire property during their stay.

Owner of Mountain Whispers, Lorraine Allanson, said she had always had a longing desire to recreate luxurious experiences of the yesteryear and that's how the business came about.

"I was motivated to create the ultimate luxury experience that epitomises what a Blue Mountains getaway is all about," Ms Allanson said.

"Tranquillity, comfort, romance, nature and a lifestyle akin to that of a bygone era, where guests can shut the door on the frantic pace of modern living and restore, reconnect, reminisce, relax."

Ms Allanson said when sourcing her properties it was important that she finds locations where guests can do as little or as much as they please, which is why each property is close to town but far enough to still enjoy the peace and quiet.

Mountain Whispers also offers unique experiences to its guests like the opportunity to go on a vintage driving experience around the region complete with dress up attire.

On site, guests are also offered luxury inclusions such as a full breakfast to cook at their leisure or a private chef to come in and cook it for them, massages and facials.

For truly memorable visits, Mountain Whispers can tailor your stay specifically to the occasion with fresh flowers, chocolates, Moet and Chandon on ice, antipasto platters, soft music and champagne on arrival.

The accommodation prides itself on its guests experiencing an unparalleled level of luxury and tourism excellence and they have certainly been recognised for this having won many awards.

In 2015 alone, Mountain Whispers was the Silver winner for the NSW Tourism's Luxury Accommodation Award, received a highly commended at the Blue Mountains Business Awards and won the Platinum award at the Australian Customer Service Awards.
